ARIES "72"
Del Río High School
Del Río, Texas

With a unity of mind,
a unity of purpose,
the students gathered in a common belief that they are one,

and to be truly unified
the students must work, live, play, learn, and most of all,
be together.

The students are alive with energy accomplishing their desires and victories.

Many have wonderful memories, others a dutiful purpose.
It is they that create schools, life, fun, sorrow, trouble.

All types of people are here.
Each passing through school to his or her own destiny in life. And all have a unitary purpose in mind.

FACULTY

Board Of Trustees

An active school board solving one of their many problems.

The board of education spends countless hours in the study of school policies, and planning the staff and administration of our school faculty. Each member sacrifices many evenings at home or days at work in order to devote more time to the betterment of the school system.

Assisting in the administration of schools are O.B. Poole, Superintendent, and Homero Sigala, assistant superintendent.

Row 1: Ignacio Hernandez, Hector Rocha, Phil Ricks, E. I. Calderon, Dr. Hi Newbly, Row 2: Gerald Leonard, John L. Dodson, Glenn Scallorn, Frank Ramon, Walt Davenport.

Principal's Message

1971 has been a memorable year for the schools of Del Rio. Our goal had been consolidation and real unity in our community. The challenges have been great, the promises magnificent, the opportunities glorious. Though the way has seemed difficult and remote, you have demonstrated admirable faith and optimistic anticipation for a united school system.

May I remind you of the contribution that others have made. Without the sacrifice, cooperation, and the aid of others, we could not have reached our goal. Let us, with hope and expectation, meet the future with love for our fellow man and a greater determination to preserve our educational heritage.

As your principal, I shall do my best to be a part of this unity.

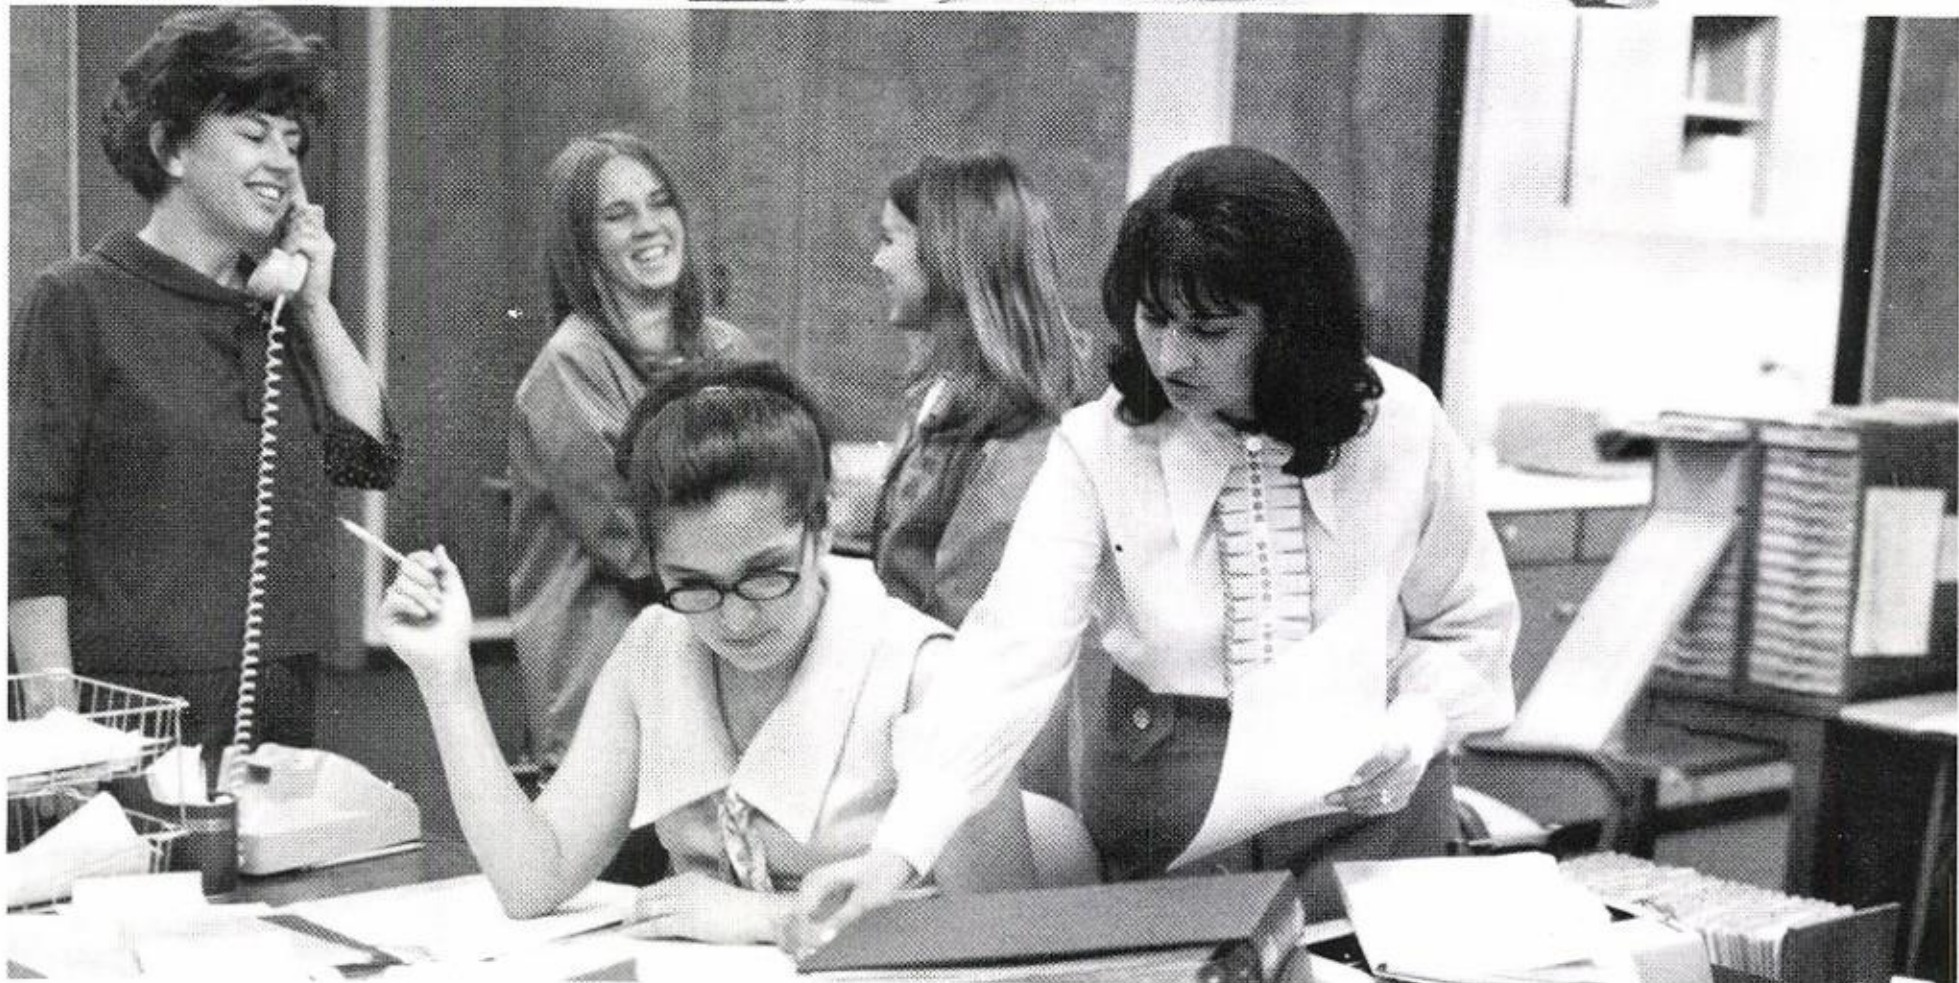

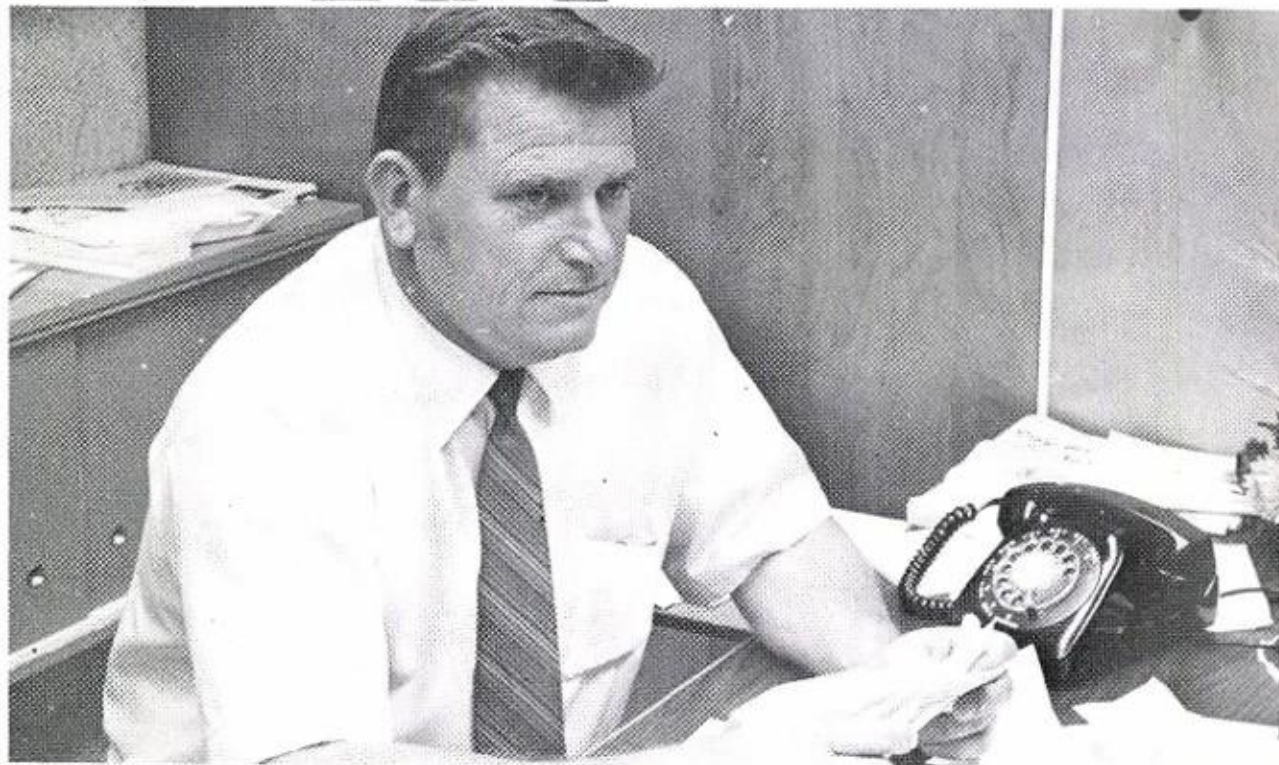

May God Bless All Of You

Administrative Office

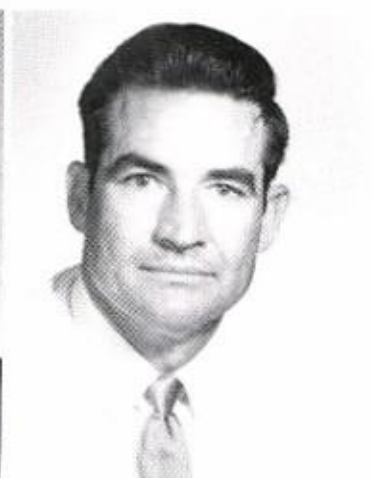

Otila Gonzalez, dean of women, and Robert Matzig, dean of men, work closely in correlation with the students and handle any discipline problems that may arise.

The Administrative Office literally "runs" the school. It does everything from writing excuses and filing all the grades to keeping track of the lost and found articles. The members of the office are responsible for the smooth operation of all school activities.

This small but very determined group of girls added greatly to the spirit at all the games. They worked constantly on their routines to reach perfection and present the best performance possible. They drew posters which added to the spirit at school as well at the games. They backed the teams all the way in victory and defeat. The girls were under the direction of Mrs. Janie Nicholson.

The cheerleaders, along with the band and football team, were the first organization to be combined. Despite the large number, the girls seemed to enjoy it and led cheers throughout the year at various sports events. Directed by the sponsor, Mrs. Nicholson, the girls put in many hours of hard work in order to raise the spirit of the high school.

The Del Rio Dolls were organized in the spring of 1967 and have represented Del Rio High School at various civic events as well as at football and basketball games. The girls in this organization not only have beauty and dancing ability but must also maintain good citizenship and high academic standing. The Dolls must work long hours in order to perfect their routine and maintain the high standards that are expected of them. Throughout these years the Dolls have represented their school and community in a truly outstanding manner.

This marks the last year for both the Dolls and the Senioritas, as they are to be combined and renamed next year. Though this is the final year for both drill teams it is not the end for the high standards and perfection we have come to expect from them. For next year the Dolls and the Senioritas hope to create a better drill team.

Susan Mehaffey—Invocation and Benediction

Deb Treadway—Scripture Reading

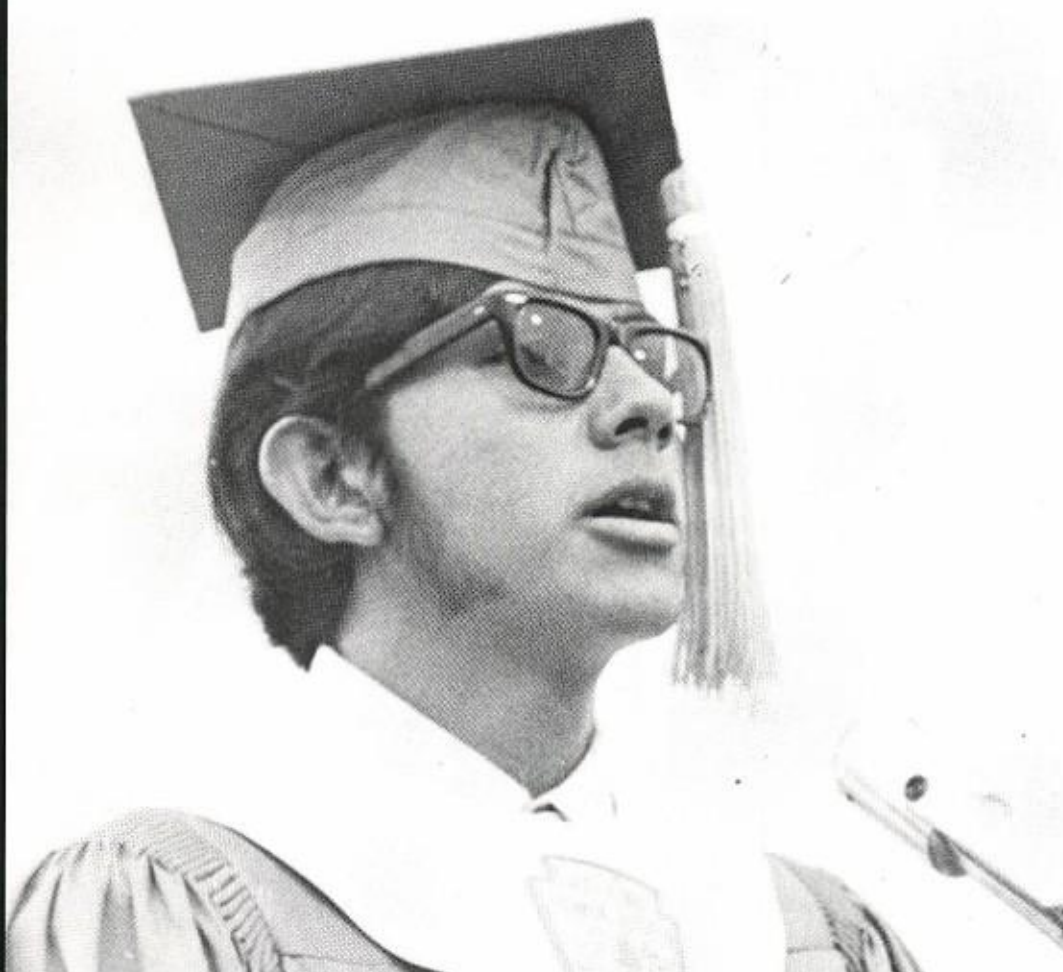

Lydia Bosquez—Recognition of Top Students

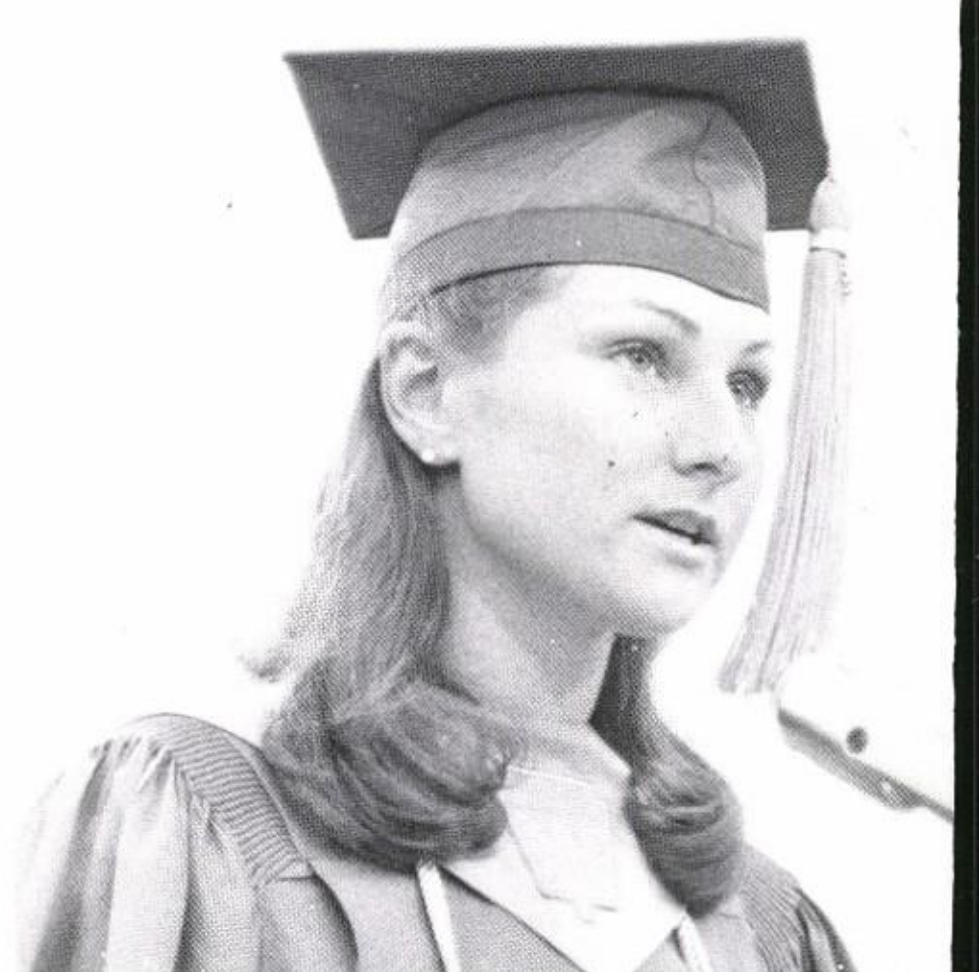

John Schnase—Introduction of Speaker

Rev. Sam E. Brian—Message to Graduates

Humberto G. Garcia—Salutatory Addresser

Patricia Sue Madison—Salutatory Addresser

Three hundred thirty-three seniors received their diplomas on June 7, 1972. The exercises were held in the stadium although it threatened to start raining. After the processional, the invocation was given by Susan Mehaffey. Martha Sample, president of the senior class, welcomed everyone and told about the meaning of the new school emblem.

The salutatory addresses were given by Patti Madison and Humberto Garcia and Deb Treadway followed with the scripture reading. John Schnase introduced the speaker for commencement, the Rev. Sam E. Brien, whose theme was "Hope of a Tired World."

Lydia Bosquez recognized the honor graduates, then Mary Dodd Abbett and Randy Urby gave their valedictory addresses.

Mr. Ramon, principal, certified the seniors and announced the names of all those receiving scholarships. Diplomas were presented by Mr. Glen Scallorn, President of the Board of Trustees, Mr. O.B. Poole, superintendent of schools, and Mrs. Claire Abbett, a member of the faculty.

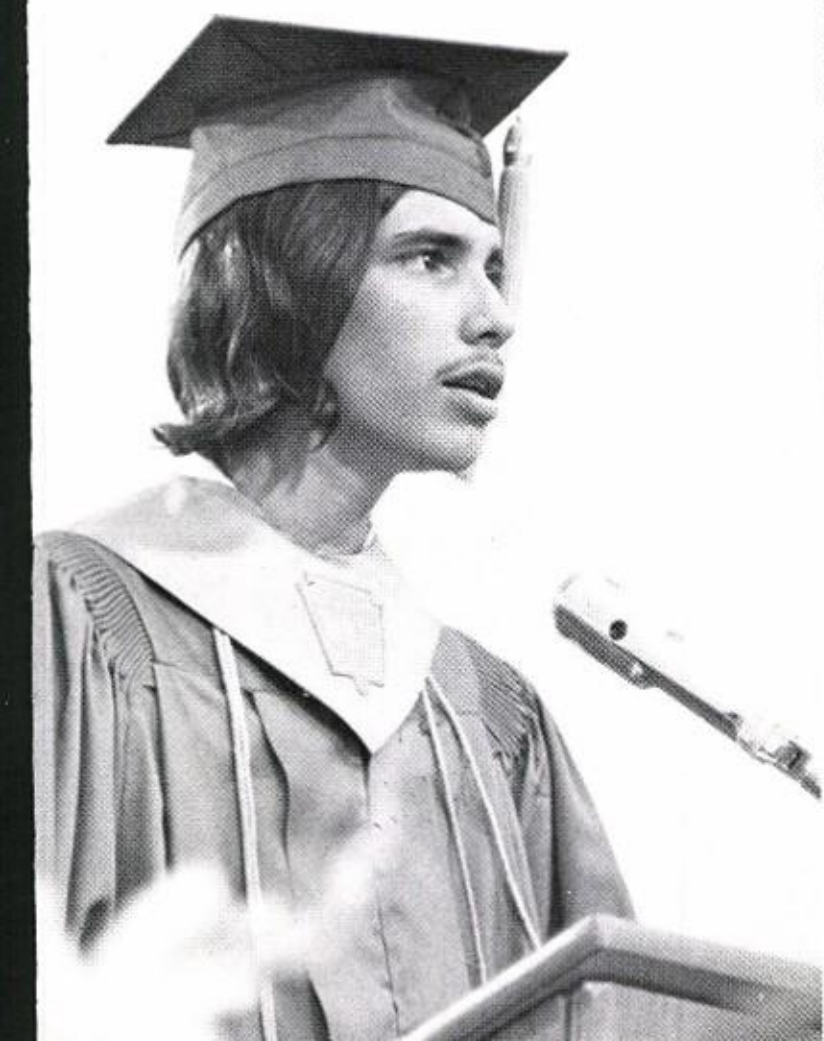

The benediction, given by Susan Mehaffey, preceded the recessional. The music was furnished by the Del Rio High School Band.

The senior class of 1972 chose the blue carnation as the class flower and the class song was "Imagine." The class motto was "Some men dream of things that are and ask Why? but I dream of things that never were and ask Why Not?" by George Bernard Shaw.

The ushers were the junior class members of the National Honor Society. They were Orlando Barrera, Joe Cortez, John Fairbault, Felix Garcia, Peter Orr, Daniel Platt, Timothy Valdez, and Lawrence Wardlaw.

ACTIVITIES

High School is full of life and activities, despite the rumor that Del Río is dull and boring.

Actually, the people who spread the rumors are
dull and boring.
Fortunately, they are few.

Life at school can be fairly
full of fun,
action, victory
and adventure.

Despite the disturbances by honest pranksters, the year continues with honor, surprise, and a dignity becoming of Del Río High.

A calm and festive spirit sets the mood for contented youth who work and play together.

*Exams and love affairs are tough
on the students.
Studying and planning
become obsessions.*

Hours and weeks of study are tested in a two hour exam.

Some are failures.

Many more are successful

Many are memories

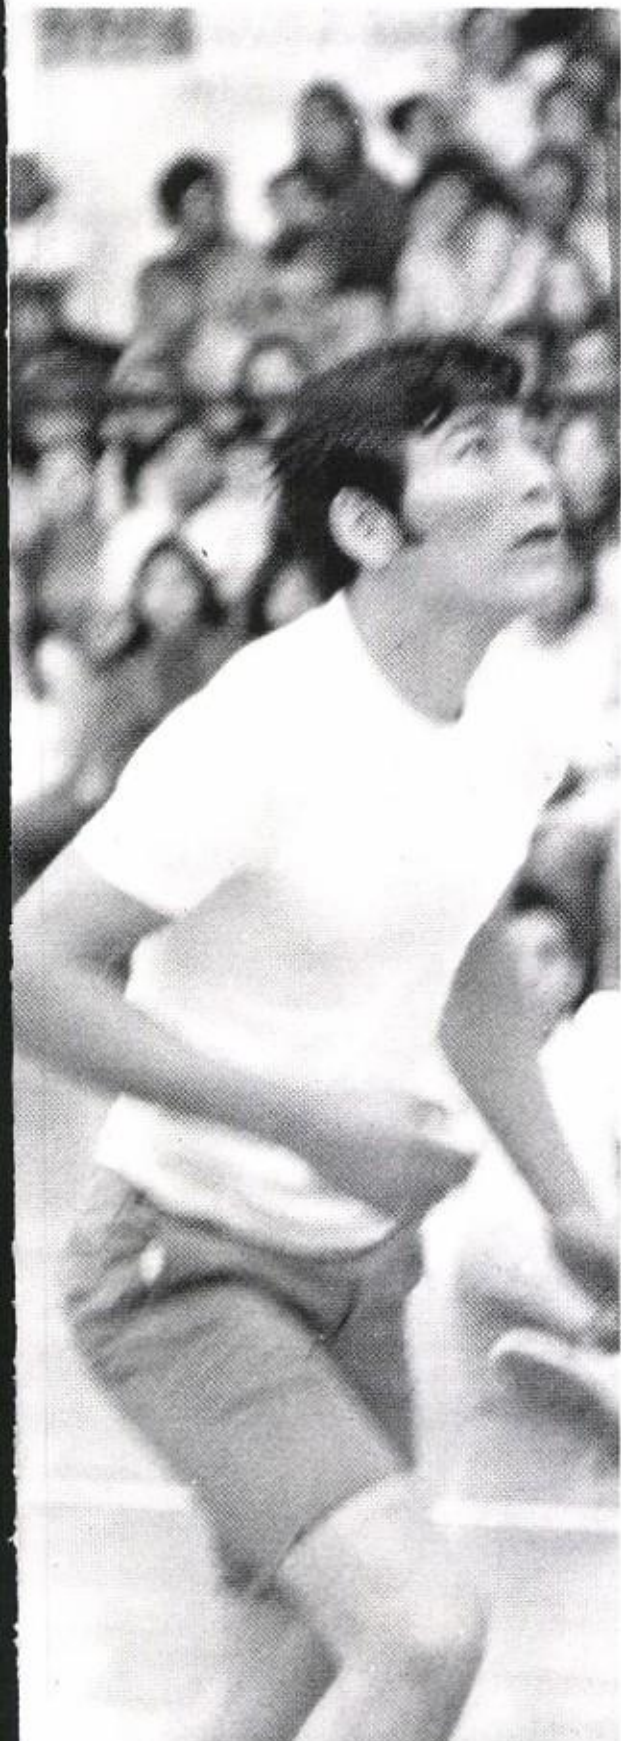

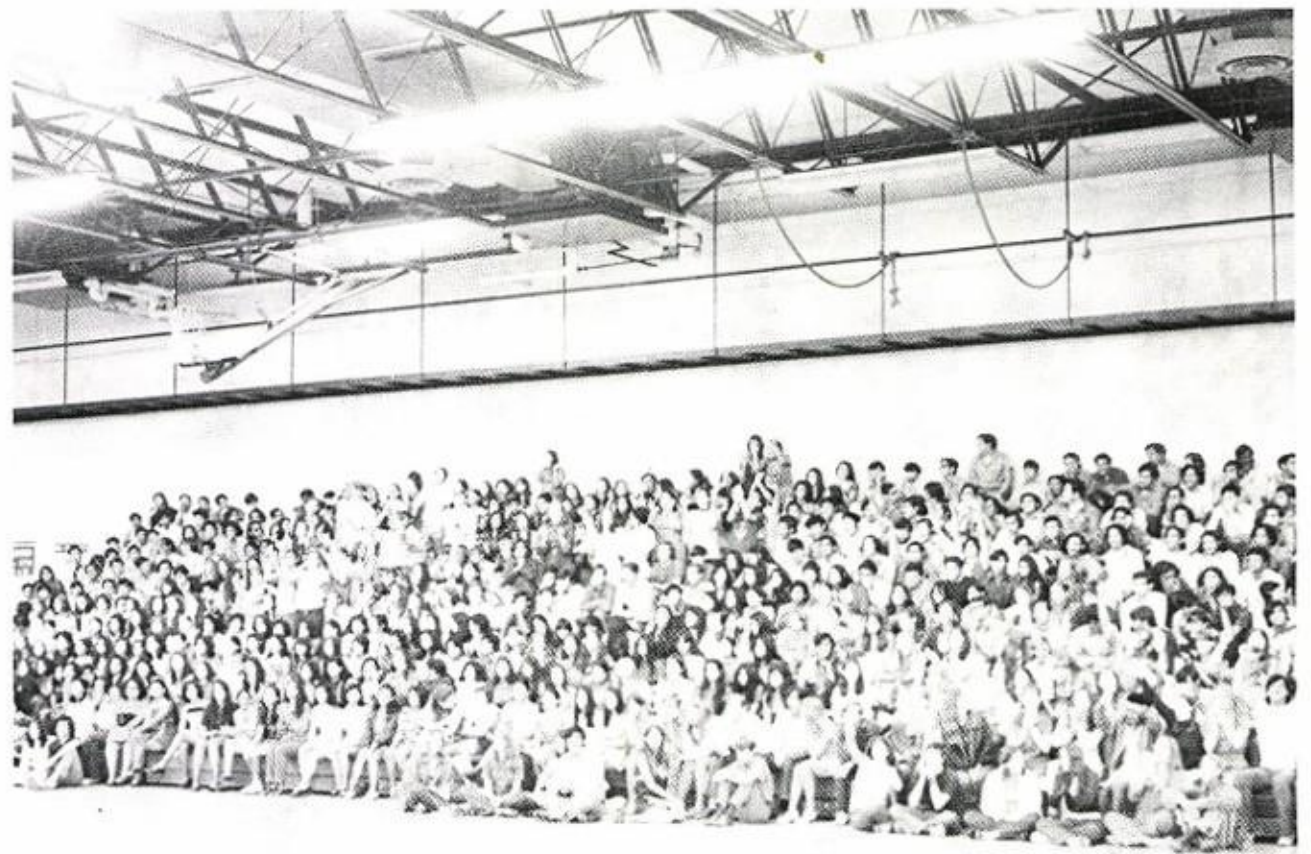

Class competition and spring registration break the monotony of school. After a close fight in which the Seniors of 72 were leading all the way, the Seniors of 74 won by one point with the Seniors of 73 bringing up the rear.

Living and contemplating, as well as just enjoying life, is part of the group life led at Del Río High.

Many people have come and gone. They have achieved, through their own desire and determination, their goals. Together and alone, students have made Del Río High a better place to live in.

*In Memory of Magdalena Leyva
and Ernesto Salinas*

And now a tale ends.

*George Bernard Shaw once said, "Some men dream of things that are and ask,
"Why?" but I dream of things that never were and ask, "Why not?"*

It is in this spirit and the spirit of unity

that this book is dedicated, Many events have come and gone which have been a learning experience for all of us.

It is hoped that this book has recorded these events.

We came as two groups

we leave

as

ONE

Joe,

Always remember me as the girl who likes to skip out of school. Good luck in everything you do.

"SLS 74"

Joe,

Eva
Sharp
